

ODD FELLOWS' PARADE

And Celebration of the Order's Seventy-Third Anniversary

PROVES A BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

In spite of bad weather and the counter attraction of the circus—hundreds of members of the Order in line—The Daughters of Rebekah Add to the impressiveness of the affair—Last Night's Entertainment and Banquet a Fitting Finale to the Observances.

As it turned out in the end, the day chosen for the celebration by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Wheeling of the seventy-third anniversary of the formation of that admirable order, was all that could be desired. There was a little wind and a little rain, but through most of the time occupied by the procession the sun shone brightly and a fresh breeze made it pleasant to be abroad.

Several delegations from neighboring towns had the foresight to come in on early trains, so that the members had an opportunity to see the excellent circus parade. Other visiting lodges were later than had been expected in arriving, several of them so late as to delay the start of the procession somewhat.

On the Wheeling & Lake Erie train which pulled into the Terminal station at 9:10 a. m. were the Steubenville, Mingo and other lodges from that vicinity, and enough outsiders to pack eight coaches to overflowing. There were over 700 passengers on board. Nine cars were run on the train to Martin's Ferry, where one was cut off. The Powikly and Cleveland & Pittsburgh roads both brought good delegations also, while the Ohio River and all divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio road added to the number of Odd Fellows and their friends in the city.

Owing to the delay of a train and the late arrival of another delegation, the line of parade was a little late in forming, and it tested the capacity of the marshals to get all in order promptly after they did arrive.

THE PARADE.

The line formed on Chapline street, with the right resting on Twelfth, at the Odd Fellows' Hall. The procession reached from there in a dense mass clear south of the city hall, while many of the carriages belonging to the second division were formed in line on Fourteenth street, east of Chapline. It was shortly after 2 o'clock when the word "forward" was given, and the procession moved down Twelfth street. It was headed by the marshals and aides, as follows:

Chief marshal, Godfrey Schul, past grand master; assistants—Henry Seamon, of Virginius lodge No. 2; Louis Hoffman, of Franklin No. 3; Fred Harper, of William Tell No. 6; D. W. Martin, of Wheeling No. 9; W. A. Schul, of Panola No. 12; August Goetze, of Concord No. 19; Joseph Purcell, of Excelsior No. 40.

Following this efficient staff, all the members of which were mounted, was the Opera House band, which won new encomiums by its fine playing. It was pronounced a credit to Wheeling.

Canton Doty, No. 42, of Steubenville, had the post of honor in the ranks. Though few in number its members made up in style of uniform and in soldierly bearing and marching. They carried a fine banner.

The Bellaire Jr. O. U. A. M. band, a very creditable musical organization, headed the Bellaire lodge, which was one of the most numerous in the ranks. Then came one of the Wheeling lodges. The home lodges did escort duty, as it were, scattered through the line.

Virginius lodge No. 2, Franklin No. 3, William Tell No. 6, Wheeling No. 9, Panola No. 12, Concord No. 19, and Excelsior No. 40 were all on hand, with large numbers, and they gave the observer of the strength of the organization in the city. Several of the home lodges carried superb banners.

The West Liberty band and lodge followed, and after another Wheeling lodge came the Ed McConkle band, of Moundsville, heading the Cameron lodge, which was unexpectedly well represented.

Wheeling, No. 9, with its handsome banner, was followed by Lincoln, No. 49, of Benwood, with twenty-five members. In its ranks was carried a silk United States flag, an emblem too infrequently displayed in the line.

It, too, was headed by a band, and after it came the Mount City lodge, of Moundsville, with the handsomest banner displayed on this occasion.

The Fairview band headed William Tell lodge, No. 6, of this city, and this lodge, with its long line of members, formed the left of the first division, the footmen. Mayor's band headed the second division, which was made up of carriages and other vehicles and a few horsemen. First came twenty-one carriages, the occupants of which wore the members of the local lodges of the Daughters of Rebekah. Then Messrs. William Ellingham and J. M. Todd followed in a buggy. Both are veterans in the order and still faithful.

Eight buggies with members and their wives or families were followed by four hacks, similarly laden. Then followed six more buggies, and then a carriage with four "old timers"—B. F. Caldwell, S. F. Farris, Stephen McCullough and David Bell. Several buggies and horses ended the procession.

All along the streets surprising crowds greeted the procession, considering the large number of people who had come to the island. The absence of decorations on the houses and stores was notable. Had any effort been made to have the town generally decorated it would doubtless have presented a gala appearance.

The line of march lay over the following route: Down Twelfth street to Market; up Market to Tenth; on Tenth to Main; down Main to Twenty-seventh; on Twenty-seventh to Chapline; down Chapline to Thirty-third; up Thirty-third to Eoff; on Eoff to Thirty-ninth; on Thirty-ninth to Jacob; on Jacob to Thirty-third; down Thirty-third to Eoff; up Eoff to Twenty-seventh; on Twenty-seventh to Chapline; north on Chapline to Twenty-first; on Twenty-first to Market; north on Market to Twelfth; on Twelfth to Chapline and disband.

Just above Sixteenth street the divisions in the lead opened ranks and the rear divisions passed through, allowing all to view the procession. It was an inspiring scene as the Odd Fellows saluted the Daughters of Rebekah, as the carriages were driven through the open ranks.

In all there were over 600 people in the line, which is a very respectable number.

AT THE HALL.

Before the parade all the delegations took dinner in the new assembly hall in the Odd Fellows' building. The delegations all took supper at the hall, and with the general public, which patronized the upper table freely, over 800 people were fed during the day and evening.

The evening entertainment was rendered according to the programme printed in the INTELLIGENCER yesterday. The hall was crowded, and the stairways and ante rooms were packed with people who could not get into the hall. They gave it up as a bad job, and during the entertainment sat around on the steps and held conversation with each other.

Speeches were made by Grand Warden Septimius Hall, of New Martinsville, Grand Treasurer Henry Seamon and Sister Price, of United Lodge 26, Daughters of Rebekah, of Benwood.

After the entertainment the dance commenced and was kept up until 2 o'clock in the morning. The Opera House orchestra played.

The ball was enjoyed by all the participants, and when the orchestra quit at 2 o'clock the hall was still full.

The general committee, which had charge of the whole celebration in all its details, deserves the greatest credit for the success of the affair. For weeks the members had worked hard, and the splendid results of their work was the merited reward of their efforts. The committee consisted of the following gentlemen:

Louis Hoffman, chairman; J. A. Taylor, J. F. Darby, Raymond Bowers, Joseph Purcell, William Clark, W. H. Hebel, Jacob Steinfeld, William Arndt, Henry Seamon, George Matthews, Daniel Toomey, William H. Schneb, Barney White, William Johnson, D. W. Martin, O. J. Morrison, Charles E. Van Keuren, Henry Goetze, Godfrey Schul, John Meyer, and W. H. Gill.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Masters of Minor Moment in and about the City.

Town council committees on scales and police are called to meet this evening.

A "Silver Social" will be given in the Third Presbyterian Church this evening by the Home Mission band of that church.

Mayor SEABRIGHT tried to stop the circus procession yesterday, but he found out there are some circumstances where his word is not law.

REAL ESTATE AGENT HALLER sold the Ray property, on the east side of Chapline street, below Twelfth, to William Emblem, for $3,725.

THE Standard sewing machine company has given a power of attorney to Samuel C. Newcomer, and has also filed a certificate of its incorporation at Clerk Hook's office.

THE meeting of the board of education last evening was postponed until next Monday night, owing to the lack of a quorum, one member having gone to see the circus.

THE Wheeling Turnverein will give a big excursion next Sunday on the steamer Liberty to Steubenville and New Cumberland. Meister's brass band will furnish the music.

MAY WILLIAMS was arraigned before Squire Gillespy yesterday under the bad fame act and was required to give bond in $500. William Emblem became her surety, and she was released.

A MARRIAGE license was issued yesterday to Henry Stein, a native of Monroe county, and Mary C. Hoffman, a native of Fulton; also to John Davis, a native of England, aged 36, and Emily Matthews, a native of England, aged 25.

ON next Sunday Rev. Daniel W. Shaw, pastor of the Mt. Zion Congregational church of Cleveland, O., will preach morning and evening at the G. A. R. hall. At 3 p. m. the People's Congregational Church, Rev. J. J. Jones, pastor, will have communion services.

Mrs. GREEN JEFFERS, of North Chapline street, who was some time ago sent home from the Weston insane asylum as cured, has had to be again confined as a lunatic, and will be sent back to Weston next week. Her three-month-old infant will be cared for at a home at Cleveland, Ohio.

YESTERDAY the ordinance against throwing paper etc., in the streets was boldly violated by parties who drove about in a hack, paying no attention when big bunches of doggers flattered about and frightened horses. Under the circumstances the inquiry is pertinent. What is that ordinance for?

JAMES ROBERTS, of Pittsburgh, called at police headquarters yesterday morning and stated that a young fellow of that place had coaxed his fifteen-year-old son to go with Barnum & Bailey's circus, and he wanted an officer to go over to the show grounds and assist him to get the boy. He was sent over to the island, but at last accounts the boy was not found.

JUDGE PAUL entered an order yesterday morning in the case of Plaintiff Z. Noble vs. Roman Gaither and others, in chancery, the report of the commissioners, James McAdams, Jacob Morris and J. R. Butt being received. The court appointed J. B. Sommerville special commissioner to sell the property in controversy, which is worth about $3,000, and divide the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

George R. Grafton, of the Marietta Chair Company, is here on a business trip.

Messrs. Jesse Meyer and Robert Collins, of St. Clairsville, were down yesterday on business.

Mr. Levy, of San Francisco, who is here in charge of the art exhibition, is very ill at the city hospital.

Mrs. Stanley Lee and sons, of Maysville, Ky., are the guests of B. M. Caldwell and sister, in Kirkwood.

J. H. Hollingsworth, of St. Clairsville, the prosecuting attorney of Belmont county, was at the McClure yesterday.

Drs. Will Baird and Dr. Hazlett Cummings, two promising young physicians, are just home from college at Philadelphia.

Ira J. Smith, of Clarksburg, Guy S. Furber and C. W. Johnson, of Mannington, were at the Hotel Behler yesterday.

At the Windsor yesterday were W. G. Bennett, of Weston; J. S. Wade and wife, of Burton; O. B. Beer, of Tolmansville, and Dr. J. C. Eames, of San Diego, Cal.

Many friends of Capt. Asa Booth and wife will regret to see in another part of this morning's paper a notice of the death of their youngest child. They will have the warmest sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

O. L. Holliday, of Moundsville; J. C. Carpenter, of Cameron; M. E. Boyd, wife and sister, and J. F. Miller, of Wellsburg; J. K. Davis and H. W. Brown, of Mannington; T. S. Spartes, of Clarksburg, and Hon. W. N. Chancellor, of Parkersburg, were at the McClure yesterday.

THE GARRISON TRIAL

Approaching a Finish, and Several Witnesses Tell

ABOUT THE GAS OFFICE FIGHT.

The State Foregoes the Cross Examination of Witnesses in Most Cases—The Cartridge Witness Sticks to his Story—The Circus and the Odd Fellows Compete With the Trial and Draw the Crowds—The Testimony Will Soon be In.

Most of the time hitherto occupied in the present Garrison trial has been taken up by the cross-examination of witnesses. Yesterday the state set a good example and allowed several witnesses for the defense to leave without cross-examination. Good time was made and the prospects of giving the case to the jury on Saturday grow brighter every day.

William Foe was the first witness called by the state. He testified to a conversation he had with Dr. Garrison in the office of the city clerk. In the course of the talk Dr. Garrison told the witness that Dr. Baird had been abusing him again; that he would do it once too often, and that would be the end of the old fool.

John Armstrong testified that immediately after the shooting he saw Dr. Garrison near the corner of Eleventh and Market streets, and that Dr. Garrison told him he had shot Dr. Baird because the latter called him a son of a— George A. Hukill, of Wellsburg, said he saw Dr. Garrison talking to John Armstrong. The latter was brought in and Mr. Hukill identified him.

Sheriff Steenrod identified the revolver Dr. Garrison had given him after the shooting, and said there were three loaded cartridges in it when it was handed to him.

T. J. Cartwright, the hardware dealer, said that Dr. Garrison bought a box of cartridges at his store a few days before the shooting.

On the cross-examination John Armstrong had been asked if he heard the conversation Dr. Garrison, C. W. Kaiter and H. H. Dunlevy had had together immediately after the killing. The question was objected to by the state, and the court sustained the objection. Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

When the afternoon session opened Mr. W. C. Smith, who was on the jury in the last trial, made his first appearance in the court room, and was an interested spectator. Mr. William H. Williams, the former of the last jury, has been in the court room several times, and was there again yesterday. The circus and the Odd Fellows' parade were attractions with which the third Garrison trial could not compete, and the attendance on the part of the public was smaller than at any time heretofore. Judges Briggs and Chambers, of Ohio, were in court during the afternoon.

Mr. T. J. Cartwright was again put on the rack, and Colonel Arnett reapplied the torture. The witness was positive that Dr. Garrison was the man who bought the cartridges.

Willie Baldwin, the colored boy employed at Genther's store, was recalled. The day before he had been asked if the telegraph poles at the corner of Eleventh and Main streets did not interfere with his view of Dr. Garrison and Dr. Baird from Genther's window. On being recalled he testified that the poles did not interfere with his view from the point in the window at which he was stationed. To Colonel Arnett he said there were some places in the window from which the view of Eleventh street might be obstructed.

Mr. William C. Beans, who had testified the evening before, was recalled for cross-examination, which was conducted by Colonel Arnett. The witness said that just before Dr. Garrison made the threat referred to in his examination the day before, he had shown the witness a scurrilous letter, and though Dr. Baird's name was not mentioned in the conversation, both the witness and Dr. Garrison understood that Dr. Baird was meant. The letter referred to by the witness was identified by him, and offered in evidence by Colonel Arnett. Judge Paul said that he had GIVEN THE MATTER CAREFUL ATTENTION, and could come to no other conclusion, than that the letter was inadmissible as evidence.

Mrs. Knight testified that Dr. Baird was visiting a patient at her house. He had been there that day at 2 and at 7 o'clock in the morning. He was to have come back at 9 or half-past 9 o'clock. She heard the two reports of the pistol, but did not see either Dr. Garrison or Dr. Baird. The state rested.

John W. Lashley was the first witness called for the defense. He told the story of the fight at the gas office between Dr. Garrison and Dr. Baird, when the latter threatened to kill Dr. Garrison. Lashley was not cross-examined.

J. B. Wilkie, another witness of the gas office fight, was examined, and testified to about the same facts, repeating Dr. Baird's threats that he would kill Dr. Garrison yet.

Officer Deke, one of the men who separated Dr. Baird and Dr. Garrison, also testified to the gas office fight. Barnard Zook related, that Dr. Baird once in his buggy passed Dr. Garrison. Jailer Dimmey and the witness, who were standing at the corner of Thirtieth and Eoff streets, and called Dr. Garrison a nigger s— of a— Mr. Charles E. Van Keuren testified to an incident similar to the one related by Mr. Zook. Councilman A. G. Hadlich said that he was talking to Dr. Garrison, who was in his buggy, on or about the fifteenth day of January. Dr. Baird passed in his buggy, stuck his head out and called Dr. Garrison a black s— of a— Dr. Garrison threw one of the lines out of his right into his left hand, and put his right hand

INTO HIS OVERCOAT POCKET. Mr. Hadlich put his hand on the buggy, this movement on his part being caused somewhat by the motion made by Dr. Garrison.

Dr. Myers said that Dr. Baird had called Dr. Garrison a name some time before the shooting, and had said that somebody ought to kill Dr. Garrison. Jailer Dimmey was present at the time the incident related by Mr. Zook took place. The witness further said that Dr. Garrison wore a dark overcoat and dark hat at the time he was brought to the jail by Sheriff Steenrod.

W. W. Hamilton testified that, on the Tuesday week previous to the killing, he went down to inquire about the condition of a friend, a patient of Dr. Baird, and that Dr. Baird, in a conversation the witness had with him, said that he would never get even with Dr. Garrison, until he cut his throat, or until he cut his d— heart out; which of the two expressions he used the witness did not recollect. Knowing Dr. Baird very well, he had not taken the throat as meaning anything serious.

Dr. A. W. Hazlett testified favorably to Dr. Garrison's reputation as a law abiding citizen. Dr. C. F. Ulrich also testified favorably to the character of Dr. Garrison, as did Mr. A. V. McDonald.

Mr. Henry Beu testified to Dr. Garrison's movements just prior to the killing up to the time Dr. Garrison jumped off the car at Eleventh street. He thought, but had no distinct recollection, that Dr. Garrison jumped off the car near the middle of Eleventh street. Mr. Beu was

ONE OF THE BEST WITNESSES who has been put on the stand in the court house during the past six weeks. He answered all questions distinctly and to the point. He volunteered no information and kept none back, and confined his answers entirely to the questions asked.

Joseph Metcalf heard Dr. Baird call Dr. Garrison a— of a— in the corridor of the postoffice.

Court here adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

WORK OF THE POLICE.

A Busy Day With the Bluecoats Yesterday—The Arrests Made.

The police had lots of work to do yesterday, managing the crowds which filled the streets most of the day, but comparatively few arrests were made. Ed. Moore went to Nellie White's house of ill fame yesterday morning, and started to raise a disturbance. Officer Desmond roped him in. James Fountain, Frank Bole and Tom Moore were fighting in a saloon, and Officer West took care of them. Tom Connors, a vag, was arrested by Chief McNichol, and two other tramps were pulled in by Officer O'Brien. Officer Myers arrested John McNamara for disorderly conduct, and Officer O'Brien locked up Tim Calvert for drunkenness. Frank O'Brien, Robert Davis and James Shay were arrested by Officer Trischler for fighting. Shay resisted arrest and had to be clubbed.

Officer Porter found five men's hats and a light-colored shawl on the fair grounds yesterday after the circus tent was wrecked. The owners can have the articles by applying at police headquarters.

THE NEW HOSE CONTRACT

Awarded to Two Companies—The Best Grade Ordered.

The council committee on fire department met last night for the purpose of examining the bids on 2,000 feet of hose desired by the department. Five bids were opened. The different companies all made the same bid on the best grade of woven hose, 80 cents a foot. The cheaper grade the committee refused to consider at all. The Chicago hose company got an order for 1,200 feet of hose at 80 cents a foot, and the Boston woven hose and rubber company was given an order for 1,700 at the same price. Mr. Ong, the president of the former company, and W. H. Wight, agent of the latter company, were present. The hose is guaranteed to be of the very best grade.

NOTES ON NAVIGATION.

Stage of Water and Movements of Boats. The River Interest.

Yesterday's rains have not yet had any effect on the river, which was still falling last night, with 14 feet 6 inches in the channel.

The reports from above were: Warren—4 feet; fair and warm. Brownsville—6 feet 9 inches; stationary, cloudy.

The fine new steamer, Iron Queen, left for Pittsburg yesterday at 6 a. m. The Hudson passed down for Cincinnati at 8 a. m. The Bedford got away for Pittsburg at the same hour.

Today the Congo will leave for Pittsburg at 6 a. m. The Scotia will pass down for Cincinnati at 8 a. m. The Batchelor will leave for Pittsburg at 8 a. m., and the Ben Hur for Parkersburg at 11:30 a. m.
